

NATIONAL PARKS EXEMPT BY BILL

Water Power Sites on Much Public Property Are Eliminated From Filing Area

In the closing sessions of congress the amendment to the Federal Water-power Act was approved so as to eliminate from its provisions existing national parks and monuments. This amendment complies with the promise made last June to the secretary of the interior when he agreed to remove his objection to the water-power bill, thereby paving the way for its signature by the president. The amendment was unopposed except by those who wished to strike out the word "existing" and make it apply as well to national parks which may be created in the future. The text of the amendment is as follows:

That hereafter no permit, license, lease, or authorization for dams, canals, reservoirs, power houses, transmission lines, or other works for storage or carriage of water, or for the development, transmission, or utilization of power, within the limits as now constituted of any national park or national monument shall be granted or made without specific authority of congress, and so much of the act of congress approved June 10, 1920, entitled, "An act to create a federal power commission; to provide for the improvement of navigation; the development of water power; the use of public lands in relation thereto, and to repeal Section 15 of the river and harbor appropriation act, approved August 8, 1917, and for other purposes," approved June 10, 1920, as authorizes licensing such uses of existing national parks and national monuments by the federal power commission is hereby repealed.

LOWERED PRICE SHOWN ON BRICK

Ogden Continues Lowest in United States Says March Digest of Makers

According to the March digest of the Common Brick Manufacturers' Association of America, 98 out of 142 concerns reporting have made no recent reduction in the price of brick. Seven concerns have cut the price $3 a thousand; twenty, $2 a thousand; and one concern reported a cut more than $3 a thousand. The 142 concerns represent approximately 40 per cent of the country's total production. After from three to six months of almost complete inactivity in the brick industry, prices range from $13 to $25 per thousand at the plants, with only four concerns out of the 142 quoting the lower figure, which is that scheduled as Ogden's price.

More brick was shipped than during the preceding month, stocks on hand being reduced to 352,000,000 brick. The ratio of orders also has decreased, being 34 per cent as compared with the preceding report of 50 1/2 per cent. Eighty-one per cent of the plants reporting are closed as compared with 86 per cent the month

VOLUME OF RHYMES ABOUT YELLOWSTONE PARK JUST PUBLISHED; OGDENITE AUTHOR

The Standard-Examiner is in receipt of a handsome pocket size volume, fresh from the press of "Hadley's Yellowstone Rhymes."

The author is Albert Whipple Hadley, 355 Twenty-sixth street, an Ogden business man, better known as "Bert" who for many years was a news-writer in Ogden and other cities.

There are twenty-one poems in the little book, all pertaining to the wonders of the Yellowstone National park, and inspired by a visit to the wonderland.

Mr. Hadley has long been recognized as a writer of merit and his "Yellowstone Rhymes" contain much that demonstrates the writer's possession of a keen imagination and a mastery of the problems of versification.

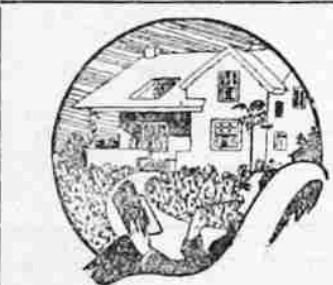

"The Dinosaur at Old Faithful" is the title of one of the poems in the collection. This sprightly number follows:

A Din-o-saur reared to his uttermost height and stiffened his 90-foot spine; preceding. There is less than one month's normal supply of brick in the yards. Nearly all manufacturers who have resumed production, report labor supply and efficiency favorable and coal supply ample.

There is only one section of the country—Southern California—which is over-sold on common brick. The burnt brick on hand in that section, including California, Arizona and Nevada is approximately 15,000,000, whereas the orders on books total approximately 16,500,000 brick.

Manufacturers declare a further recession in prices depends on a downward revision in freight rates.
